"I remember it rained a lot in New China. On those days I would hang near the front of the family store, and when my Mother was reading and my Father not in sight, I would silently slip out the front entrance and onto the sidewalk. With my eyes closed, I would lean back against the wall of the store. I could feel the coolness of the wet wind on my face. Above my head the shop signs swayed in the wind and water would begin to fill first the street and then the sidewalk itself. I couldn't wait to get my own spaceship so I could be free!"

Chin Yi, Living in New China, a place in an alternative reality some time in the future, grew up in her parent's store. Even at age four she was unusual as often she could be seen running the streets with a pack of wild dogs, who acted as her protector. How she attracted them and why nobody knew but nobody messed with her. She became of age just in time to be a leader among the youth who learned to fly spaceships and who began adventures on various planets in the Multi-verse. Join her now on one of her early journeys...into the stars.
