Multinational Corporations and European Regional Systems of Innovation (Routledge Studies in Global Competition) John Cantwell, Simona Iammarino

In globalising economies, particularly those going through a process of economic integration such as those economies within the EU, regions forge an increasing number of linkages with other locations within and across national borders. This is largely carried out by the technological efforts of Multinational Corporations (MNCs).

This book explores the regional dimension of Europe in terms of localised technological comparative advantages and the location of innovative activities by MNCs. Using an empirical analysis John Cantwell and Simona Iammarino cover such important themes as:

- *MNC technological activities and economic wealth
- *MNCs and the regional systems of innovation in Italy, UK, Germany and France
- *the geographical hierarchy across European national borders.
